

Doctor Frankenstein puts together the parts of dead bodies and makes a new creature.

That night the weather is terrible: stormy, windy, rainy and cold.

Doctor Frankenstein puts an enormous battery next to the creature. At 12 o'clock a bright flash of lightning strikes the battery and the electricity passes to the creature.

The creature wakes up suddenly and opens his eyes. Doctor Frankenstein is happy. "My creature is alive! My experiment is a success. I've created a new life!" he says.

But the creature is very tall and very ugly.
He gets up slowly and walks around. He has got dark hair, yellow eyes and brown teeth. His arms and legs are long and strong. He is wearing an old black jacket, a green T-shirt, blue jeans and boots.

Henry and the servants are terrified.
Frankenstein's creature is really a monster.
They run away. Now Doctor Frankenstein is scared.

His monster is terrifying. He doesn't like the monster.
He doesn't want to be with the monster.
Doctor Frankenstein rejects him.
"Go away!" Doctor Frankenstein shouts to the monster.

