

One winter day Henry visits the laboratory.
He sees this new experiment and is shocked:
a second monster, a wife, is a terrible idea!
"Victor! Stop working on it." Henry shouts to his friend.
Doctor Frankenstein follows Henry's advice and stops.

But the monster gets very angry. He understands that he is condemned to be alone. In a rage he kills Henry. Doctor Frankenstein is desperate and realises that the only way to stop his creature is to kill him.

The monster runs away.
